CONNECT & CHECK | SHARE | PRESENT | APPLY | RECALL & REVIEW

Complete without notes after the lesson or for independent consolidation. This original classroom test is separate from the six-item workbook retrieval quiz.

1 Define a sociological perspective. [2]

2 Explain one difference between consensus and conflict approaches. [3]

3 Identify the approach most directly concerned with class ownership. [1]

4 Match each question to functionalism, Marxism, feminism or interactionism: social order; inherited class advantage; gendered care; meanings of fairness. [4]

Evidence and application

In the fictional Rowan household, two adults work paid shifts and care for a child. One adult does most of the unpaid cooking and arranging of care. The child is praised for helping. Relatives sometimes provide childcare. The adults say that their routine is “fair”, although they describe fairness differently. No genders or incomes are specified.

5 Explain why a theory’s name is not sufficient evidence. [2]

6 Using the Rowan case, explain one question an interactionist might investigate. [3]

After marking
